Introduction

The Associació MedCités / MedCities is an association of cities, with its headquarters in Barcelona, dedicated to sustainable urban development in the Mediterranean. It comprises 73 municipalities and unions of municipalities from seventeen different states and runs projects in the fields of strategic urban planning, urban services, the environment and local economic and social development, as well as training activities, technical support and the capitalisation of best practices. The network was created in 1991, since which time it has carried out dozens of projects in Mediterranean cities.

The cities of Bethlehem, Jerash and Saida hold a green infrastructure strategy, as a result of the NATUREMED project, which took place on 2022 between MedCities, Barcelona City Council and the three municipalities (Bethlehem, Jerash and Saida). This project helped to determine a set of strategic actions to enhance the presence of green spaces, among others.

The HERA Project (Heat island Effect Reduction Actions) will implement three demonstrative pilot actions that are aligned with the green infrastructure strategies of the three cities and promote ecosystem services to, among others, contribute to mitigate the heat island effect in the cities.

In the case of Jerash, the demonstrative pilot will consist on the rehabilitation of Jerash municipality park, which is one of the oldest most famous public parks in Jerash city and reflects the heritage and cultural identity of Jerash city. The Park is Located next to the municipality building at the city center within the crowded area, surrounded by shops, restaurants and other economic activities. The park is accessible by walking for most citizens of Jerash city.
